Models of delivery for the 15 hour Funded Entitlement

You can use a maximum of 10 hrs per day and a maximum of 15 hrs per week (190 hrs per term).

You may be able to access the entitlement in the following ways (subject to availability at your chosen provider).

1. The Standard Model – entitlement is claimed for 38 weeks per year.

If your provider is open for more than 38 weeks of the year, or your child attends for more than 15 hours per week during term time, you will have to pay for additional hours for the extra weeks that your child attends in the year.

Your provider may average out the additional charges across the year to give you a monthly bill or you may receive a bill for the holiday (non term time) weeks.

2. The flexible model – for providers open more than 38 weeks

If your child attends for at least 190 hours per term (570 hours per year) your provider may be able to offer you a flexible model which allows you to claim your maximum entitlement allowance. Your providers will pro rata your entitlement across their billing period, so that you receive a fixed bill.

E.g. your child attends at least 570 hours per year at a provider that bills monthly

$570 \text{ free hours} / 12 \text{ months} = 47.5 \text{ free hours per month plus charges for any additional hours}$

3. Stretched Offer Model – for providers open more than 38 weeks.

This is for families who only want to take up their extended entitlement and not pay for additional hours) at a provider that is open all year. There are two stretched offer models depending on how many weeks your provider is open across the year:

a. 48 week model e.g. at a childminder

Your child can attend for up to 11.75 hrs per week for 48 weeks per year without incurring charges for additional hours .

b. 51 week model e.g. at a full daycare provider

Your child can attend for up to 11 hrs per week for 51 weeks per year without incurring charges for additional hours.

Please note that for all of the above delivery models, your provider may charge for optional extras such as lunches and snacks but these should be agreed prior to taking up a place and should not be a condition of you accessing the funded entitlement.

If you are unable to get what you want at your chosen provider, the Families Information Service can advise on other suitable childcare providers on 01904 554444.
