

When talking to the baby while changing say words starting with that child's name e.g. '_Bobby, baby, beautiful or Charlie, chum, chest

Have a feely bag hung up on a hook or on a high shelf with items in it beginning with the same initial sound. Show the objects one at a time singing 'What have we got in the box today? Emphasis the initial sound e.g. b-b-b-bib, b-b-b-bottle

When a baby is babbling show them themselves in the mirror so they can see themselves making sounds

Hide objects in a changing bag and reveal to the child by them being invited to take one out at a time as the nappy is being changed. Encourage them to name the objects as they find them

Clothes tongue twisters

Grown ups make up silly alliteration phrases that make great silly tongue twisters - e.g. silly sock sitting still, white wipes wipe well

Chant alien names using simple cut out puppets.
Do peek a boo activities with Fig Fog
Fum Feeeee
